

Best Practice-1

Title of the Practice- “Book Bank Scheme”

Objectives of The Practice:

- a) To make academic books easily available throughout year.
- b) To provide free access of books to the students.

The context:

As the college is located in rural and hilly area, academic books are not available in the nearby market and our college library lends only two books for one week. Consequently, the students do not get easy access of the books. So the college decided to run a book bank scheme through the central library for the students.

The Practice:

The college central library circulated a notice about the book bank scheme and invited applications from the students at the beginning of the every academic year. The books were distributed for one year free usage to the students from all the three faculties on the ‘first come first serve’ basis.

Evidence of Success:

Every year around fifty percent of the students took benefit of the scheme. No. of beneficiaries is 864 in 2020-21.

Sr.No	Academic Year	No. of Students Admitted	No. of Beneficiaries	% of Beneficiaries
1	2020-21	888	265	30%

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

Every year there was need of a big amount of money to buy the books. Shree Siddhivinayak Ganapati Temple Trust, Mumbai made the books available for free and college paid the deposit money of books to the trust.

Best Practice –2

Title of the Practice: Development of Research Culture among Students

Objectives of the Practice:

- To make students familiar with the process of research
- To motivate the students to participate in research
- To develop the students into future researchers

Context:

Vaibhavwadi tehsil is a culture and bio-diversity rich region. So, there is a lot of scope for research in the fields of humanities, commerce and basic sciences. However, there is lack of awareness among the students about the process of research and the scope for research in this region.

Practice :

In the first term of every academic year, we conduct lectures on research methodology separately for the students of each faculty. Through these lectures, we make the students familiar with the process of research. Furthermore, our faculty members continuously motivate and guide the students to select and carry out the projects. We also encourage them to present their projects in district-level inter-collegiate research project presentation competition, Avishkar Research Convention, organized by the university.

Evidence of Success:

Due to research friendly culture in the college, number of students taking part in district-level inter-collegiate research project presentation competition has been increasing. Moreover, the number of projects selected for university-level inter-collegiate research project presentation competition has been increasing.

Problems encountered and recourses required:

Initially, the students did not come forward for research related activity. Our faculty members consistently worked to persuade, encourage, select and guide the students in carrying out research projects.
