About WRC - ICSSR:

The Indian Council of Social Science Research, an autonomous organization, was established by the Government of India in 1969. It, in turn, established the Western Regional Centre (WRC) with the approval of the Government of Maharashtra in January 1973 in collaboration with the University of Mumbai on the new campus of the University of Mumbai at Vidyavanagar.

During the last thirty years, the WRC has grown into a fine and exceedingly useful institution. In fact, it has now been recognized as one of the best and most developed Regional Centers of the ICSSR in the entire country

The Indian council of social science research (ICSSR) has before it the primary objective of promoting research in social sciences. Social science research in the country has a long history. Valuable contributions have been made by scholars of outstanding ability and international repute in their own fields. Research has made strides both in regard to conceptualization of problems and empirical analyses.

The WRC, in pursuance of its aims and objectives, conducts research methodology courses, seminars, and workshops, receives foreign visitors, administers study grant, acquires books and other material on deposit basis, purchases books and journals, maintains a bibliographical unit, operates clearing-cum-documentation services, provides hostel facilities, etc.
